DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 23 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dastur, et al. Please refer to column 10, line 32, specifically the section titled "Starting and Stopping Infusion Regimes".

Claims 23 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Peterson, et al. In column 17, line 59, the specification states that a disabling structure is provided to caregiver pump (200) for disabling the pumping mechanism.

Claims 23 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Larson, et al. Please refer to column 3, line 53 wherein the specification discloses hold mode (52) and run mode (50).

Claims 23 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fischell. In column 21, lines 49-45, the specification clearly indicates that blocks 160, 179, and 198, in figures 11, 12, and 13 respectively suspend pump actuation in the executor and basal subroutines when pump inhibition is in effect.

Claims 23 and 41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lebel, et al. Please refer to column 39, lines 56-60. The specification states that a suspend mode is an operational state of the implantable device where insulin delivery is reduced to a medically insignificant level.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 24-40 and 42-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dastur, et al., Peterson, et al., Larson, et al., Fischell, and/or Level, et al. The examiner argues that the teachings of the cited references provide justification to conclude that the suspend function can be utilized for more than one wave profile. Moreover, such an enhancement is a duplication of a well known programmable function as evidenced by the cited references. Accordingly, for a person of ordinary skill in the art, the modification of an infusion system algorithm to consider more than one profile would have been considered an obvious design choice.
